MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN 2016/17

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN PRIMARY SCHOOLS

ASTON OLYMPIANS

Aston Olympians has been a major part of our curriculum for many years because it adds such a breadth and depth of learning and skills development for our children. It is such an inclusive event that encourages and inspires even our quietest children, and most importantly helps them to develop a broad range of important life skills. They always return so enthused and with a new level of confidence and motivation. Thank you to Titan and Aston University for continuing to fund and deliver this outstanding event.

Sue Hughes, Head Teacher, Anglesey Primary School

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN SECONDARY SCHOOLS

MY CHOICE, MY FUTURE PROGRAMME - A UNIQUE WORK EXPERIENCE PROGRAMME FOR YOUNG PEOPLE FACING DISADVANTAGE.

'Our students don't often get the opportunity to take part in work experience programmes like this because of the perception of young people in alternative provision schools. I could not be more proud of the 10 students that took part. Some of them were potentially at risk of falling into the NEET category and now they are motivated to do well in their exams and are going onto college and into apprenticeships. I would like to thank Titan and the team at JCS4S for supporting and encouraging our students.'

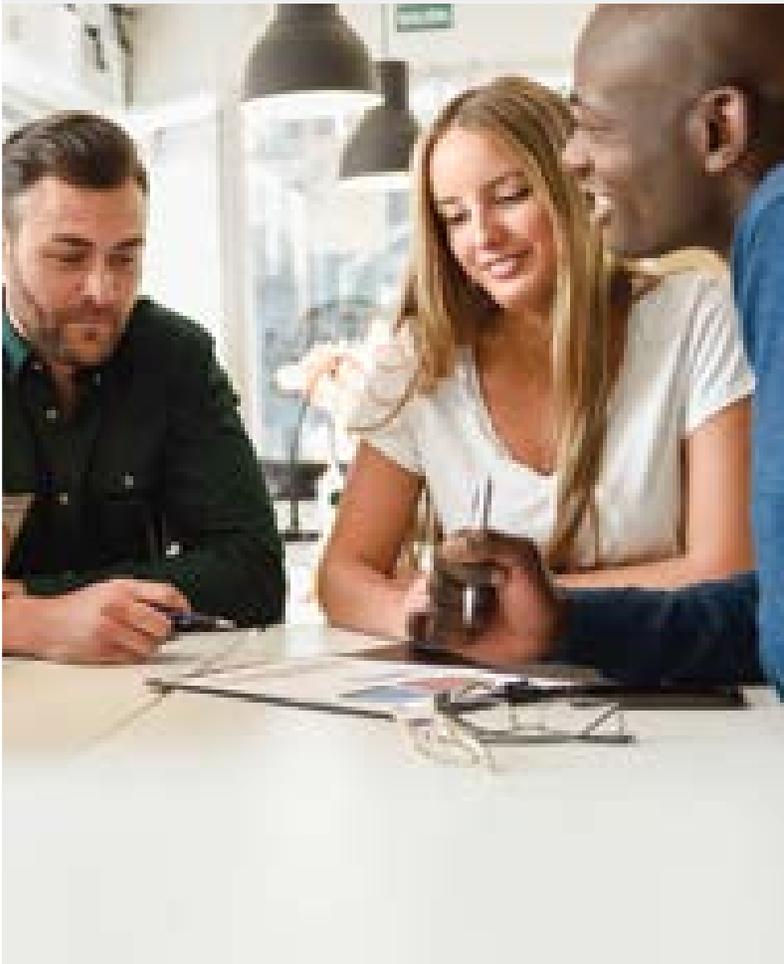

Nikki Hutchison, Principal, St. George's Academy

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN FURTHER EDUCATION

' We have been a member of the Titan Partnership for a number of years and have found the student progression and employability work that we do with schools incredibly valuable however we are looking forward to building much more collaborative, cross-phase relationships with Primary and Secondary schools and with the other HE members.'

*Jacqui Maher, Assistant Principal, Curriculum
Development & Innovation, South & City College
Birmingham*

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN HIGHER EDUCATION

‘Our partnership with Titan continues to create real impact for Aston University and for the local communities we serve. By working with children from a very early age, through the Aston Olympians project for example, we are helping to raise aspiration and to build the skills and confidence they need to go onto university and into successful employment. The Aston Olympians programme is now in its 12th consecutive year and we are extremely proud to have helped more than 2,500 local children to aim high and to realise their potential.’

Professor Helen Higson, OBE - Provost and Deputy Vice-Chancellor, Aston University
